

Executive Officer

Commander

R. A. BIHR

Commander Bihr enlisted in the Navy in 1943 and since then has served in many different billets, with communications being the most important. He worked during 1958, on the implementation of the Allied Command Europe Tropospheric Forward Scatter System, a communications network that served NATO military units from Norway to Turkey. He has attended two schools, the Naval Post Graduate Schools of Communications Engineering and Business, obtaining a Master of Science in the latter. He has also served on the staff of Commanders, 1st and 7th Fleets. In 1965, he commanded the USS ROGERS, which saw action in Vietnam. In 1966, he joined TOPEKA.

